

Real People. Real God. Real Solutions.

Recap:

We have begun our study through the book of James entitled, "All-In." Paul opened the series by examining the first twelve verses of the first chapter. He pointed out that the Jews had been scattered due to persecution, and that they were still facing trials in their new locations. James challenged his readers to consider it pure joy when they face trials, which simply means to go through tough times with the proper attitude and response to bad situations. This challenge is the same for us today.

1. What are some challenges or trials that you have gone through recently?
